THE PROPERTY

Dormers

Dormers is a wonderful Grade II listed family home set within delightful grounds of about six acres in a rural village location. The earliest part of the property dates back to the early fifteenth century with later additions around 1900. The garden includes an all-weather tennis court, a heated swimming pool, vegetable garden, a garage and former groom's cottage adjoining two stables which provides excellent storage and potential for conversion subject to planning permission and listed building consent.

The house has many interesting and original features with impressive fireplaces, timber doors with Sussex latches and extensive exposed wall timbers and ceiling beams. The ground floor space is extensive and versatile with a welcoming reception hall, sitting room, study, dining room and office/playroom and cloakroom. The kitchen breakfast room has a larder, adjoining utility room and 'butler's pantry'. Outside the kitchen there is a stone courtyard with a tile roofed seating area providing a wonderful al fresco dining area.

Upstairs, there are six bedrooms plus two bathrooms with potential to rearrange the layout to create an en-suite to the master bedroom. Every window looks out onto the garden or fields.

Dormers is approached via a gravel driveway with plenty of parking and garage access and is set amidst idyllic grounds totalling around six acres which with the former stables should be of particular interest to equestrian enthusiasts.

Surrounded by countryside in this charming village setting the gardens are well screened by hedging with established planting to include trees and shrubs, with extensive lawns, and fields beyond. A stroll around the gardens reveals the scope for entertaining with the all-weather tennis court, swimming pool and unwinding in the special areas for al fresco dining.

The property is truly a slice of history and over the years has entertained many famous visitors including Rudyard Kipling and E H Shepard, illustrator of Winnie the Pooh, who records in his diary a visit to Dormers to play tennis.

All in all Dormers is an ideal destination for those seeking a spacious and inviting family home full of character and conveniently located for busy lives.
